

AshBritt Inc. is the largest debris cleanup company in the United States. Since 1992 AshBritt has managed and executed over 90 disaster projects and 28 special environmental projects, including the Hurricane Katrina cleanup effort – the largest debris project ever executed by a single company.

The Conti Group is one of the largest construction firms in New Jersey and a 2012 Best Places To Work winner. Founded in 1906 and based in Edison, Conti has built an extensive disaster relief resume and a reputation for mobilizing quickly. We bring the latest innovations in construction methods and technology to every job in order to save our customers time and money. That's one reason we've grown from a regionally based construction firm to a nationally recognized leader in infrastructure development.

AshBritt has signed an emergency debris cleanup contract with the State of New Jersey that can be used by any New Jersey municipality. If you are in need of an emergency vendor to remove storm debris from public properties and public rights of way, your local government may contract with us under the terms of this existing contract.

WHY OUR TEAM

- We understand the FEMA administrative process and the meticulous paperwork necessary to get funding approved. We can get you to “clean” and “paid” quickly.
- Because of our existing Debris Removal State Contract, we can get a municipal contract signed in minutes. You may find this to be a convenient and expeditious option, without the need to negotiate your own contracts or to use the cumbersome specification process that is impracticable during this emergency.
- We are specifically focusing on utilizing local contractors already at work in your community.
- We have a federally approved cost reimbursable accounting system, and work under a fixed price line item basis.
- As a local company ourselves, we know the best subcontractors in New Jersey and we will put them to work immediately.
